

Willis Weirich, Senior Vice President Group Operations, Neiman Marcus

Willis Weirich is Senior Vice President Group Operations for Neiman Marcus Group where he leads a team responsible for supporting the various brands within the organization's portfolio. Willis joined Neiman Marcus Group in March 2016 as Vice President of Logistics and was appointed Senior Vice President in August 2017. His scope includes all facets of supply chain and global logistics in addition to loss prevention, photo studio, customer care and facilities. Willis works in concert with the executive team to execute NMG's strategic plan to create meaningful customer experiences that drive replicable growth and profitability.

Prior to joining Neiman Marcus Group, Willis worked for Target Corporation, where he directed both international and domestic logistics across multiple distribution networks. Willis has held additional roles in supply chain finance and operations during his career at Target and Airgas Inc.