Title: Disruptive Supply Chain Technology: Don't Get Caught Napping

Session Learner Objectives:

- Learn what technologies will dramatically change supply chains
- Understand how those technologies could be applied to your business

Educational Level: Intermediate

Abstract:

A number of technologies such as mobile, SaaS, Google, digital data, robotics, voice, etc. will transform how many companies operate their supply chains over the next five years. Yet, many supply chain managers will miss this transformation and be left behind. This session will explore how supply chains and supply chain performance are being redefined by new breakthrough technologies. The Disruptive Supply Chain Technology session is a “must attend” for companies that are looking for new ways to gain or maintain competitive advantage.
